A Rich History
 Although the exclusive development of just 12 apartments was sympathetically rebuilt in 1987, the origins of Guisnes Court date back to circa. 1666, when it was constructed as an elegant country mansion. During World War I, the property served as a Voluntary Aid Detachment (V.A.D.) Hospital, before later becoming a renowned country club and nightclub throughout much of the 20th century. Following a devastating fire in 1984, the building was carefully redeveloped into the distinctive collection of apartments seen today, successfully preserving the charm and heritage of this remarkable landmark.
