THE DWELLING

Handsome and generously proportioned semi-detached residence, offering flexible accommodation arranged over multiple floors and a pleasing sense of scale throughout. The house retains a number of characterful features and presents well-balanced rooms, now offering scope for comprehensive modernisation and refinement, subject to requirements.

The property has benefitted from a programme of essential works in recent years, including improvements to the roof, electrical wiring and a new heating system. The property now requires updating throughout, presenting an increasingly rare opportunity to create a tailored village home of distinction, with the ability to reimagine the interiors to suit contemporary living while retaining its inherent charm and proportions. Furthermore, the property offers potential for a substantial two-storey rear extension, subject to the necessary consents, which could significantly enhance both the accommodation and overall functionality of the house, creating a more expansive family home suited to modern requirements.

ACCOMMODATION

The ground floor is particularly well proportioned and offers a highly adaptable arrangement of living space, ideally suited to both family occupation and entertaining. To the front elevation, two elegant reception rooms sit either side of the entrance, each enjoying excellent natural light and generous proportions, lending themselves equally to formal or informal use. These principal rooms flow through to the rear where an open-plan kitchen and dining area forms the true heart of the home. The kitchen is well arranged with ample space for dining furnishings, creating a sociable and practical setting for everyday living.

Adjoining the kitchen, a useful pantry provides further storage and functionality, with access to a ground floor cloakroom. From here, a conservatory extends the living accommodation, offering a bright and versatile additional reception space with views over the garden. This area could continue in its current use or, subject to preference, be reimaged as part of a wider programme of updating and enhancement.

On the first floor, there are three well-proportioned double bedrooms, all enjoying a pleasant sense of space and natural light. This level is served by both a family bathroom and a separate shower room, a particularly practical arrangement for modern family life or visiting guests.

The second floor has been sympathetically converted to provide two further double bedrooms within the roof space, each enhanced by skylights which bring in natural light and create an airy, loft-like feel. These rooms offer excellent flexibility for guest accommodation, home working or ancillary bedroom use.

Overall, the house presents an increasingly rare combination of scale, character and flexibility, and while it is already a most comfortable and charming home, it would now benefit from updating in parts. This presents a discerning purchaser with the opportunity to refine and reimagine the interiors, creating a bespoke village residence tailored entirely to their own requirements.

GARDEN

Externally, the property is approached via a driveway from the road, providing ample off-street parking for several vehicles. Immediately adjoining the house, a patio terrace offers an ideal space for outdoor seating and al fresco dining, with a natural transition leading onto the main area of garden.

The garden itself extends to the rear and is notably generous in both length and depth, creating a pleasantly unexpected sense of space. Predominantly laid to lawn, it is bordered and enclosed by mature hedging, established shrubs, and a selection of trees, which together provide a good degree of privacy and a mature, settled feel. Within the garden there are several useful storage sheds.
