THE PROPERTY

A sweet cottage in the Glue Hill enclave of Sturminster Newton. The addition of the conservatory extends the internal living space and seamlessly extends the sitting room with a dining area. The kitchen has a range of wall and floor units with walk in larder and a gas hob range cooker. The breakfast area has a lovely window with vistas over the garden. A wood burner is the central feature of the sitting room with an impressive Bressummer beam above.

Stairs lead to a good landing with two double bedrooms, one to either side. Bedroom Two has a guest WC to one side and a large recessed built in wardrobe. The stairs extend further to a large loft or attic spaces which has been insulated and dressed as attic rooms for occasional use.

OUTSIDE

A lovely enclosed garden, ideal for al fresco entertaining, is a wonderful addition to the cottage. Parking is abundant in the large driveway along with a bike shed and lots of further storage and BBQ areas. Raised beds and a place for a hot tub with water supply and a separate seating area combine to give different areas, all seen from the kitchen / dining room. This south facing garden is low maintenance, gravelled and a paved area by the conservatory giving lots of seating or entertaining areas.

There are solar panels on the shed roof and the dining room roof and water butts for harvesting garden water.
